This listing is for a new build, built to order at the X-Yachts factory in Haderslev, Denmark.

X-Yachts introduces a new X4.9 with a lot of improvements - new look with an updated hull, new rudder, lower weight, more luxury in the cabin - and better performance too.

When the X4.9 MkI was introduced in 2018, the Pure X range really started to make its mark in the global yacht market. The X4.9 was the third model in the all-new Pure X range and today more than 50 have been sold globally.

Deck and Hull

The X4.9 utilizes vacuum infused epoxy lamination, giving the ability to save weight. This is paramount to increase the weight of the lead keel bulb, lowering the centre of gravity, assisting the hull to drive through the waves. This is key to delivering a stiff yacht without the keel draft being extreme, enabling the X4.9 to moor in shallower waters.

The hull is available in a number of colourways and is oven baked, enabling the option of dark topsides without the risk of surface deformities.

The hull topsides include six large portlights, with a further 8 openable coachroof portlights on deck for optimum light and ventilation. In addition to this the forward face of coachroof is fitted with curved toughened glass, maximising interior light. All of these combined make below deck feel light, airy and spacious.

For when you are at anchor, there is a large electrical operated bathing transom door, which allows easy access to the water, and a dinghy garage for storing up to a 2.7 m inflatable.

Accommodations

As you step below deck you will notice the spacious entrance with laminated raw teak steps, to prevent slipping, and elegant laminated teak handrails. The X4Åçï½Å¹ will welcome you with lots of new ideas, light and ventilation. There are a number of layout options available, all beautifully presented in a modern and internationally recognizable style and quality.

Standard Oak veneers in a Nordic style or with an option for Burma teak, white vinyl paneling, teak laminate floor boards, bright white walled bathrooms with teak gratings and Corian worktops with integrated Corian sinks (Q Pack).
